

Unchristian Men

A bad man would not have written the Bible if he could, for the simple reason it tells him what he is.

It speaks of unchristian men as "Abominable Branches," "Ashes under the feet," "Bad Fishes," "Beasts," "The Blind," "Brass and Iron," "Briers and Thorns," "Bulls of Bashan," "Carcasses trodden under feet," "Chaff," "Clouds without water," "Corn Blasted," "Corrupt Trees," "Deaf Adders," "Dogs," "Dross," "Early dew that passeth away," "Evil Figs," "Fading Oaks," "Fiery Oven," "Fire of Thorns," "Fools building upon sand," "Fuel of fire," "Gardens without water," "Goats," "Grass upon the Housetops," "Green bay trees," "Green Herbs," "Heath in the Desert," "Horses rushing into battle," "Idols," "Lions greedy of prey," "Melting Wax," "Morning Clouds," "Moth-eaten garments," "Passing Whirlwinds," "Potsherds," "Raging waves of the sea," "Reprobate Silver," "Scorpions," "Serpents," "Smoke," "Stony Ground," "Stubble," "Swine," "Tares," "Troubled Sea," "Visions of the Night," "Wandering Stars," "Wayward Children," "Wells without Water," "Whited Sepulchres," "Wild Asses' Colts."

In the nature of the case it is not thinkable that any man would write such things against himself. So very true is this that it is most difficult to get unchristian men, as a rule, to even read the book with anything like carefulness, or to go to church lest they hear God's estimate of them.
